Footnotes:

1.	The fee amount is based on the market price for such services in a particular state/locale.
2.	There may be an additional charge if the service is performed on a rush basis or if ongoing maintenance is required.
3.	The fee may exceed the state range under extraordinary situations including, but not limited to, nonconforming properties, proposed construction, beach, canyon, rural and remote locations, atypical large gross living areas and over-improvements.
4.	Utility fees are passed through based on actual utility company billing. Charges can vary widely depending on the circumstances, including the billing rates or consumption rate.
5.	Charges vary depending on local ordinances.
6.	This category of costs and fees represents two types of charges: the actual cost charged by the attorney or trustee for work performed and related expenses, including but not limited to filing fees, court costs or other administrative or direct pass thru expenses, which may be assessed by the Courts. The costs charged for the worked performed can vary based on the amount of time spent or the issues raised during the process, among other factors. Costs could exceed the stated range depending on the circumstances, including but not limited to the jurisdiction, local practice, the legal rates in the location, the character of the proceeding, whether the matter is contested, the course of any bankruptcy or fore closure proceeding, multiple filings, and objections to plans. This is the typical fee range for handling a routine matter. Fees may exceed this range for multiple filings, contested matters, multiple interested parties, and otherwise non-routine matters. Actual fees will be based on market rates, actual time spent on the matter, and issues raised during the process The cost range reflects the actual market price for services rendered, and may exceed this range for multiple filings, contested matters, multiple interested parties, and otherwise non-routine matters.
7.	Process server fees vary based on several factors including the number of parties that must be served and the difficulty of achieving service (e.g., the fee may be higher if a party is avoiding service, is difficult to locate or distant from the forum).
8.	Publication/posting fees vary based on the publication method used, which may be set by local or legal requirements, among other factors. In certain cases, the actual publication cost may exceed the stated range based on local publication rates, publication requirements, and length of required advertisement.
9.	The amount for these costs varies widely and is dependent on many factors, including but not limited to the nature and extent of the work performed or services provided, the location of the property, size of the residence, and character of the infestation or contamination.
10.	The fee may exceed the stated range under extraordinary situations including but not limited to, emergency services, large lots, extensive landscaping, non-standard size, condition, or damage of the systems, property, or location involved, the amount of personal property, local ordinances, or the term during which the property remains subject to default.
11.	In certain cases, the actual title cost may exceed the stated range based on the number of properties, amount insured, number of searches required, and otherwise non-routine matters.
12.	Charges vary depending on local ordinances and municipality or county requirements.

- The frequency of the charges will depend on how often services are requested or required, the payment status and both investor and legal requirements.
- Default fees and costs follow state and local requirements as well as investor and insurer guidelines, which often vary based on loan type, outstanding balance, payment status as well as property location, size and condition.
- Default and Bankruptcy fees reflect the amount of the invoice paid to third party vendors (including, in some cases, affiliates) for a service performed.
- Sales tax will be charged to the borrowers as per the state requirements on the eligible services.
